

Amsterdam
New York
London
Paris
Düsseldorf
Singapore
Hong Kong
Sydney

+

Are you looking for a thesis or orientation internship in communications in the finance sector?

This internship is a great opportunity to apply and master your corporate communications skills as well as gain experience in the financial sector. As an intern you will be working with an international team of professionals specialized in communications, public relations, marketing, design, content creation and event management. During this internship you will work with the PR, Content and Event team.

Practical information about the internship:

- Thesis internship or orientation internship.
- Duration: minimum of 4 months (negotiable).
- Start date: June, July, August or September (negotiable).
- Remuneration of €500 per month.

What can you expect from an internship at Cognito:

- Making (digital) marketing plans.
- Learning about finance, fintech and asset management.
- Creating content for Instagram, LinkedIn, website, newsletters and more.
- Co-organizing professional events.
- Working together with the Cognito team on various communications projects and channels.
- Working on concept development and social media campaigns.
- Developing and monitoring online communications strategy.

+

What we have to offer:

- An open, energetic culture with a lot of freedom and clear responsibilities.
- Ability to expand your network within the industry.
- Focus on personal growth and mentoring by our senior members of the team.
- Team lunch on Monday and Friday afternoon drinks with networking opportunities.
- Monthly €15 budget for Alleeo – a flexible benefit tailored to your needs! Whether you're looking for discounts on wellness, mental health support, sports activities, or a wide range of other offers.
- OpenUp provides our employees with access to professional mental health support, enabling them to grow and feel well – both at work and beyond.

Who are you?

- You are creative and passionate about communications.
- You are eager to learn about the finance sector.
- Proficient in English; Dutch is a plus.
- You have an eye for detail and can work with deadlines.

About Cognito

Cognito is a fast-growing international PR, marketing, and communications agency. We specialize in supporting organizations in the financial, tech, and professional services sectors. Our clients range from fintech's to tech startups. We also create content and organize/support events. From large international corporates to disruptive startups, we help organizations grow and manage their reputations through communication.

Our global team is based in Europe, the US, and APAC. We work closely together to provide international clients with support in the countries where they operate. Our curiosity and commitment to continuous learning ensure that we stay ahead of the latest developments.

If you wish to apply or have questions regarding this vacancy, please feel free to contact us at hramsterdam@cognitomedia.nl.