

Intern Creative Team at Cheil Benelux

Cheil Benelux has an opening for an intern creative team.

About us:

Cheil Benelux is a growing creative agency with firm roots in creativity, tech & commerce. We're here to make brands grow and believe creativity is the only sustainable way to do it. We love challenger brands and everyone who likes to challenge things.

We're always looking for challengers to help us grow.

Our creative hub is in Amsterdam, but we have strong branches at our Schiphol and Brussels office, too. Our work spans multiple disciplines: we're big in advertising, digital and retail environments. Cheil Benelux is part of the Cheil Worldwide network, headquartered in South-Korea, with agencies and centers of excellence around the globe.

About the Job:

We have space on our creative floor for an intern creative team. As creatives, you come up with ideas for our clients that help them grow and fit our creative standards. You learn on the job by working with existing creatives and being part of the processes of a creative agency. You learn how to present your ideas to internal stakeholders and sharpen your thinking skills.

As a creative team, your combined ideation power is most important, but we do consider it a pre if at least one of you loves writing and one knows how to make things look great.

About You:

You are a creative duo with a love of brands and advertising. You are in your final years of a creative HBO degree, like an art school or communications degree. You are a team that consists of two people who like to work together and have done so before. You are innately curious and creative. You are as much thinkers as makers: ideas are nothing if they stay in your heads. You love advertising in the broadest sense: from traditional print & film to crafting digital experiences to thinking about retail environments.

Key Responsibilities:

- Concepting advertising ideas that fit the need of our clients and the standards of our agency.
- Helping and learning from other creative teams; filling in their gaps and surprising them with ways they haven't thought of.
- Be pro-active: you're as much a brief taker as a brief maker.

Requirements:

- In your final years of a relevant education
- You know your way in Adobe Creative Suite and keynote or are willing to learn fast
- Fluent in English & Dutch.

Compensation & Opportunities:

The successful candidate will be offered the following when joining Cheil;

- A fair internship compensation
- A vibrant and social office, based in Het Sieraad (Postjesweg 1), Amsterdam: with shared lunch provided every day and frequent company gathering and fun activities!
- Flexible working opportunities and equipment provided to work from home
- Opportunities to develop yourself working alongside a talented team

If all of this sounds like a perfect match and your passion resonates with ours – then we'd love to hear from you!

Application Instructions:

Please send us your portfolio, CV and cover letter to [j.maasdam@chiel.com]. Let's craft, create, and conquer together.

Cheil is an equal opportunity employer, and so we encourage candidates from all backgrounds to apply.
